PublicSchoolWORKS Wins 2012 Bronze Stevie® Award For Sales & Customer ServiceSM

PublicSchoolWORKS receives award amid more than 1000 entries from across virtually every industry

Cincinnati, OH – March 28, 2012 – PublicSchoolWORKS, a Cincinnati-based company that offers the one and only comprehensive, fully-automated risk management system available for schools, has received the 2012 Bronze Stevie Award in the Front-Line Customer Service Team of the Year category. Companies entered in 27 sales and customer service categories.

“We’re delighted to kick off our celebration of the 10th year of the Stevie Awards movement with the 2012 Stevie Awards for Sales & Customer Service, which is the first program in which we conferred Silver and Bronze Stevie Awards,” said Michael Gallagher, president and founder of the Stevie Awards. “It’s gratifying and inspiring to have received so many remarkable entries for this year’s competition.”

More than 100 members of seven specialized judging committees determined Stevie Award placements from among the finalists during final judging this year. Winners were announced on Monday, February 27 at Caesars Palace in Las Vegas

“I am always hearing from our customers how completely impressed they are with our customer service team which means a lot to all of us at PublicSchoolWORKS. We are dedicated to helping administrators deliver a culture of safety while reducing risk and the associated costs. This award recognizes our commitment to doing ‘whatever it takes’ to satisfy our customers. To be recognized in the same breath as major companies that are fellow awardees is extremely gratifying,” said Tom Strasburger, vice president of PublicSchoolWORKS.
